FEDERAL DIRECT STAFFORD LOAN PROGRAMS

Loans are self-help funds that you must repay! You are not obligated to borrow a loan. All loans require a minimum unit enrollment of six (6) approved units taken within the Los Angeles Community College District. If you have defaulted on a student loan, you are ineligible for financial aid with the exception of a Board of Governors Fee Waiver. Contact the Financial Aid Office to discuss possible options for resolving your student loan default.

WHAT IS A DIRECT LOAN?

Direct Loans are low interest loans to students and parents to help pay for the cost of a student’s education after high school. The lender is the U.S. Department of Education. There are no banks or lending institutions. There are two types of Direct Loans: Subsidized loans and unsubsidized loans.

- Subsidized loans are awarded on the basis of financial need. You won't be charged any interest until you graduate or drop below six units because the federal government subsidizes the interest during the time you are enrolled. Effective July 2012, the government will no longer subsidize the interest during the six month grace period.

- Unsubsidized loans charge interest from the time the money is first disbursed until it is paid in full. The interest is capitalized when you enter repayment, meaning that you pay interest on any interest that has already accrued. One way to minimize how much interest accrues is to pay the interest as it accumulates. If you still have several years until you receive your degree, this can become very expensive.

Loan processing fees will be applied by the institution.

NOTIFICATION

Even though it is a loan, the college has the right to refuse to certify a loan for high-risk borrowers. Los Angeles Southwest College has a responsibility to evaluate all student loan requests on a case-by-case basis and has the federal authority [HEA Sec. 479 (A)(c), 34 CFR 685.301(a)(8)] to reduce or deny loan requests for students that in our professional judgment, are at serious risk of loan default. High levels of indebtedness, coupled with a small amount of progress in an academic program, are common indicators of high risk for default. After evaluation, your student loan request may be denied or reduced due to conditions below:

- A previous default on a federal student loan.
- Notification of previously discharged federal student loans due to disability or bankruptcy.
- Notification of delinquent federal student loan repayment status.
- Instances of inconsistent, fraudulent FAFSA, or admissions application information.
- Inability to repay -- Applicants with loan indebtedness in excess of a maximum for two-year public institutions.
- Consistent NOT meeting satisfactory academic progress standards.

FEDERAL LOAN BORROWING LIMITS

A student’s financial need and annual loan limits determine how much a student may borrow. Students will either be classified as Grade Level One (0-30 units completed) or Grade Level Two (over 31+ units completed and student is enrolled in a program of more than one year). For most students, we will look not only at completed units, but at how long it will take to complete your program. The total undergraduate aggregate loan limits are as follows:
Amounts are based on one academic year. All student loan disbursements are divided into two (2) payments per loan period. Request for less than $200 in loans cannot be processed.
